

Ex 6

Vibrato Exercise

Relax elbow, wrist and hand. Make sure that the wrist is well away from the violin and does not bend inward.

Hold violin with chin and gently move the arm up and down in a semi circle shape. Free the fingers on the R.H. edge of the fiddle and keeping them there move the hand backwards and forwards.

With a piece of tissue, polish the string. Slide the finger backwards and forwards. Start with the distance of one inch and then gradually decrease until you are on one spot.

Try the exercises above with the finger in one position. At this stage do not let the finger slide. Let it roll back on the fleshy part of the finger.

The arrow pointing upwards indicates that the finger is in a straight position and the arrow pointing downwards indicates that the finger is to be bent.
